

York Festival of Ideas 2013

Festival Fringe Family Fun Afternoon

Saturday 15 June 2013, 1.30–4.30pm

Ron Cooke Hub, University of York, Heslington East

Families are warmly invited to an afternoon of fun activities led by postgraduate students from the Humanities Research Centre at the University of York.

No ticket needed – just come along!

Voicing Villainy

Curses! Perfect your own dastardly, villainous voiceover as you work with genuine silent movie villains on screen.

Portraits and Perceptions

What do kings and queens tell us about themselves through their portraits? Paint your own 'royal' self-portrait.

Richard III: Rumour and Reality

Villain or maligned monarch? Dig up the clues and decide for yourself.

Soundscapes of the Mesolithic

Chop, scrape, rasp, hew and splinter with flints, antlers and other authentic Mesolithic materials.

Record and mix the results with state-of-the-art recording equipment to recreate the sounds of human society 12,000 years ago.

Create-a-crest

Design your own family crest.

Mysterious cats

Poems, face-painting and mask-making inspired by our feline friends.

For directions to the Ron Cooke Hub, see www.york.ac.uk/hub/directions